

DV-105(A) Instructions

Gather necessary information:

Before you begin filling out the form, gather information about the cities and states where your children have lived in the past five years, including the dates they lived in each location.

Completing additional pages:

Add additional pages (i.e. fill out another copy of this form) if necessary to ensure you've filled out the residence history for all of your children over the past 5 years.

Completing multiple tables:

Complete a separate table for each child/group of children with different residence histories than the ones already written

1 Case Number

Fill in your case number (if you've been assigned one)

2 Name of child or children:

Write the name of the child (or children, if multiple children lived together for the past 5 years) whose residence history you'll be filling in.

3 City, State, and Tribal Land

- You must list the location of each address where the child or children have lived over the past 5 years, starting with their current address and moving back in time.
- Under this column, list the city and state (or tribal land) where each child/group of children lived.
- Use the format (City, State Abbreviation). For example: "Alameda, CA"

4 Dates (month/year)

- You must list the dates when the child/group of children lived at each address.
- In the "From:" column, provide the month and year when the child began living in each location.
- In the "Until:" column, provide the month and year when the child moved away from each location.
- Use the MM/YYYY format: For example: "10/2023"

5 Children lived with:

- For each location, check each parent that the child or children lived with at that address
- If the children did not live with either parent, check the box under the "Other" column
- If you checked any of the boxes under the "Other" column to indicate that the child or children lived with someone other than a parent, write this person's full name and their relationship to your children.
